

[GROUP DISCUSSION]

The Case for Reparations

“Two hundred fifty years of slavery. Ninety years of Jim Crow. Sixty years of separate but equal. Thirty-five years of racist housing policy. Until we reckon with our compounding moral debts, America will never be whole.” The Atlantic

SUNDAY, MARCH 12, 12:30 P.M.

COUNTRYSIDE CHURCH

ATHERTON HALL

POTLUCK LUNCH @ 12:15

Since running as the June 2014 cover story in The Atlantic, Ta-Nehisi Coates' thought-provoking “The Case For Reparations” has sparked lively conversation, soul searching and countless questions.

Join us for this important and timely discussion.

Special guest Cliff Nellis, executive director and co-founder of the Lawndale Christian Legal Center

Read the article online in advance of discussion. Search “The Case For Reparations 2014 The Atlantic.”

Potluck items appreciated.

Sponsored by the Black Lives Matter Initiative of CCUU